Know Like Trust

Every week each member gives a 30-second commercial about their products & services. In addition, a different member each week educates chapter members about their business during a twenty-minute presentation.

Strong professional networking relationships are forged. These are developed through weekly meetings, 15 minutes of networking time prior to each meeting, core group meetings, training seminars and scheduled social events.

As professional relationships are strengthened, members are increasingly able to actively promote chapter members' businesses and give better qualified referrals.

IRN's structured approach to networking, combined with your active participation in our entire program, will enable you to build a successful network!

A successful networking team ignites a passion that will lift you higher, carry you further and take you to places that will surpass your highest expectations.

Networking is an extremely valuable marketing tool successful people rely on extensively. To be a successful networker, you must be willing to give of your advice, talents and time.

The number of referrals that you receive from your own clients will increase. When you start referring other business professionals in IRN to your clients, those clients will quickly learn that you are a great resource for all their needs.

IRN provides the entire structure necessary to build a successful network. We share the most essential requirements for successful networking with our members. We bring together like-minded men and women who develop into a team supporting each other's goals and interests.
